Fireworks Injuries

The National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) reports that an average of 10,000 hospital treated fireworks injuries have occurred in the United States over the last several years. Each year thousands of adults and children are seriously hurt with fireworks related injuries.

Most fireworks injuries in Utah occur around the 4th of July celebration, but are not limited to that holiday. Many other holidays -- Pioneer Days (July 24th), Christmas, New Year's, Labor Day, etc. -- have fireworks as a part of their celebration.

The stories reported each year are all tragic. Some of these fireworks accidents cause permanent disability and a large number of injuries: especially to children. These accidents include injuries due to senseless, reckless, misuse of fireworks.
